“Integrating Migration Policies into Development Strategies for the Benefit of All”

WEDNESDAY 4 NOVEMBER 2009

TIME	SIDE EVENT	KEY ACTORS	VENUE
13.00 - 13.45	The Bali Process: A Model for Regional Cooperation	Thailand and Indonesia	MC3
	The Bali Process remains a key regional forum addressing the challenges of people smuggling, human trafficking in persons and transnational crimes. It provides an inclusive and non-binding forum for countries to develop practical working contacts in the region. It encourages whole-of-government interaction which enables the Process to deal with the full range of operational and policy issues – a necessity for any regional response to people smuggling and human trafficking. Information on the Bali Process is available at www.baliprocess.net
13.00 - 13.45	Panel Discussion on "Gender-Responsive Migration & Development Policies"	Michele Klein Solomon, IOM Gloria Moreno-Fontes Chammartin, ILO	Skalkotas Room
	The Panel on Gender-Responsive Migration and Development Policies aims to: (i) highlight/present policy recommendations from the ‘Global Consultation on Migration, Remittances and Development: Responding to the global economic crisis from a gender perspective’, organized by ILO, IOM, UNDP and UN-INSTRAW from 29 June to 1 July 2009 in Geneva, and (ii) generate discussion on strategies for integrating gender-responsive migration policies into development strategies.
